Yearbooks have been described as "frozen time." That they are serving as they do to jog the student's memory long after the events of high school are forgotten. But that description does not do justice to the immediate value of a yearbook which we think is closer to sports television's instant replay which captures and amplifies the immediate past. If the analogy holds, we now present an instant replay of the 1978-79 school year or as a famous, or infamous, sports telecaster would elaborate. . . .

While "Instant Replay" provides retrospect into one's past, the Panthorian has attempted to provide introspect as well.

Band entertains while raising funds for Hawaii journey

Rest provided as assemblies show events

Throughout the year, assemblies provided a brief rest from the daily grind of classroom work. Ranging from glimpses of upcoming Thespian presentations to a rousing pep rally for the Mighty Panthers, the assemblies provided a chance for students to show their enthusiasm and interest in school events. Football pep rallies proved to be the most popular with MHS students, who often filled the gym after school to cheer the Panthers to another win.

Boosters seek to raise funds with Carnival

The first Maryvale High Boosters Carnival was held March 5, with club booths set up from the auditorium to the cafeteria.

Though the carnival may not have been a financial windfall, a great time was had by all who participated. The majority believed the car demolition was the most fun activity. West Side Toyota donated the old Pontiac for the kids to take a crack at it.

Japanese wrestlers lose one match at MHS exhibition

Maryvale High School had a real treat this year when they were visited by 11 Japanese Wrestlers and seven coaches. They were welcomed into the homes of four Wrestlerettes and several Student Government officers. They stayed in America for one month and wrestled some of our best wrestlers, in which they lost only one match.

Thespians produce 'Mousetrap' 'Crucible' during early season

Two of the outstanding offerings of the 1978-79 Maryvale Thespian season were Arthur Miller's "The Crucible", and the musical fantasy of Frank L. Baum's "The Wizard of Oz".

Drama was the strongpoint of "Crucible", which told of witchcraft in early Salem.

"Oz" was highlighted by special effects and familiar songs which have made the story a favorite for generations. The fantasy told of Dorothy, a Kansas girl whisked off to the magical land of Oz, where she encounters an array of adventures from a wicked witch to the friendly Munchkins.

Three Salem girls (Vicki Lamb, Robin Dedmon and Tracy Sifrit) envision the spirit of Mr. Proctor descending on them, (bottom left).

"The Wizard of Oz" features the climactic scene of Dorothy (Patty Marquis) fearing she will be unable to return to Kansas (upper left), while she is comforted by the Cowardly Lion (Greg Hines) and the Tinman (Randy Zieser). Soon afterwards, the Lion anxiously awaits the appearance of the great Oz (bottom right).

"Peanuts" gang comes to life for Thespians

The final production of the 1978-1979 Thespian season was "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown", the play version of the famous Charles Schultz comic strip. The comedy of Snoopy, the innocence of Charlie "Blockhead" Brown, bossy Lucy . . . all were brought to life on the stage by the Maryvale production group, in a witty, charming style.

The portrayal of Snoopy is certainly not one of the easier tasks in acting, but Micah Williams brought the character to life. Whether he was pondering life on top of his doghouse (upper right) or imagining himself to be more than just an average dog (bottom right) Snoopy is one of the most popular characters ever. Other portrayals were by Tracy Sifrit, Steve Hall (upper left) Lisa Lee and Tony Sarsam (bottom left) in the play, seen here in pre-production.

Hope that you boys have enjoyed and enjoy more so,

Yours
truly
Hazel

MHS students shine during lunch hours

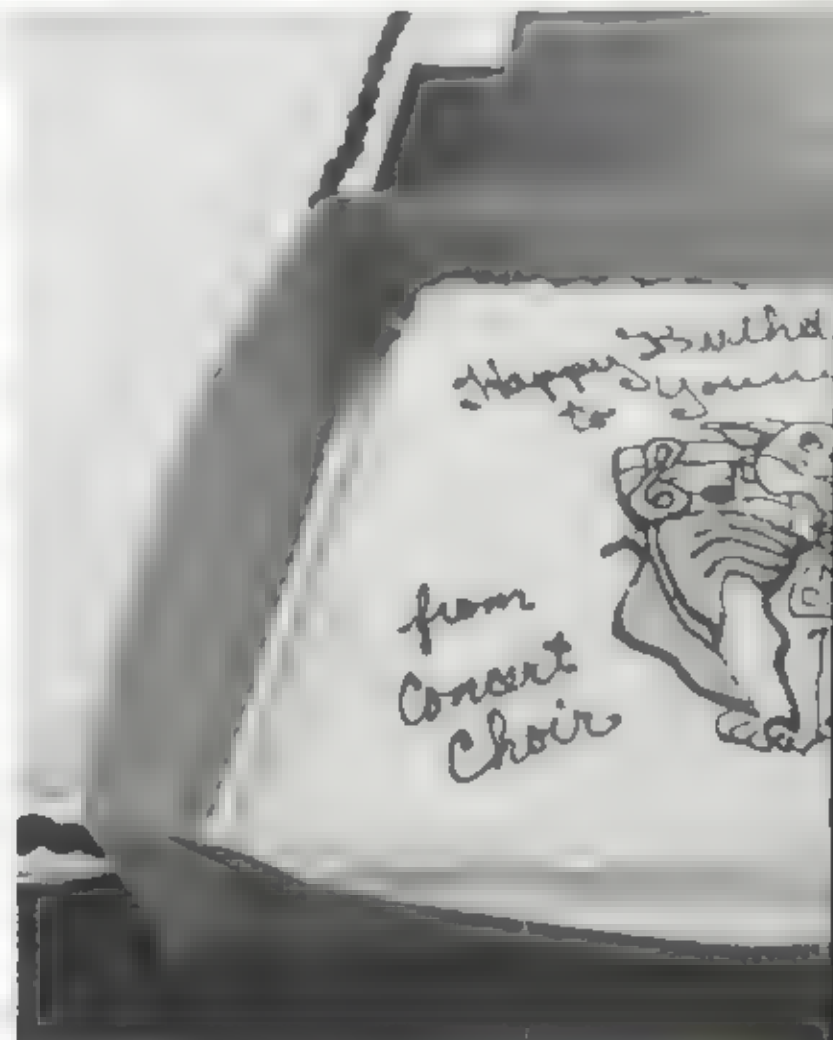

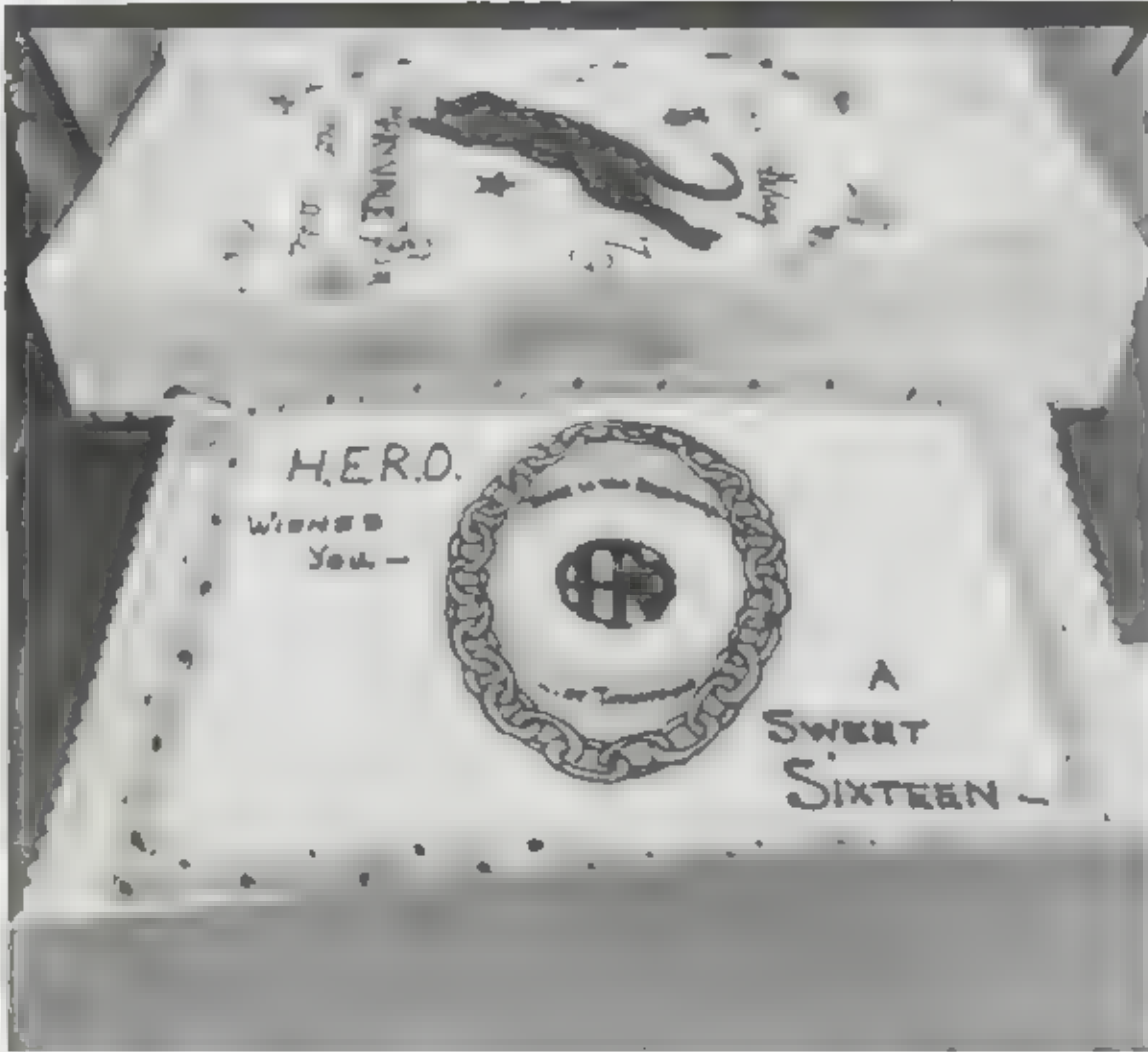

When the bell rang for fourth hour, students poured from the classrooms happy for an hour of eating, gabbing or driving around.

On special occasions, there were contests: pie eating and sack races during homecoming, door decorating before Christmas, or dressing weirdly at Halloween.

Lunch time meant rushing to get in line at the cafeteria, peeling out of the parking lot to get to a local fast food chain. It meant a quick hike home for some of mom's fine food. It meant fun.

Birthday celebrated with dancing, cakes

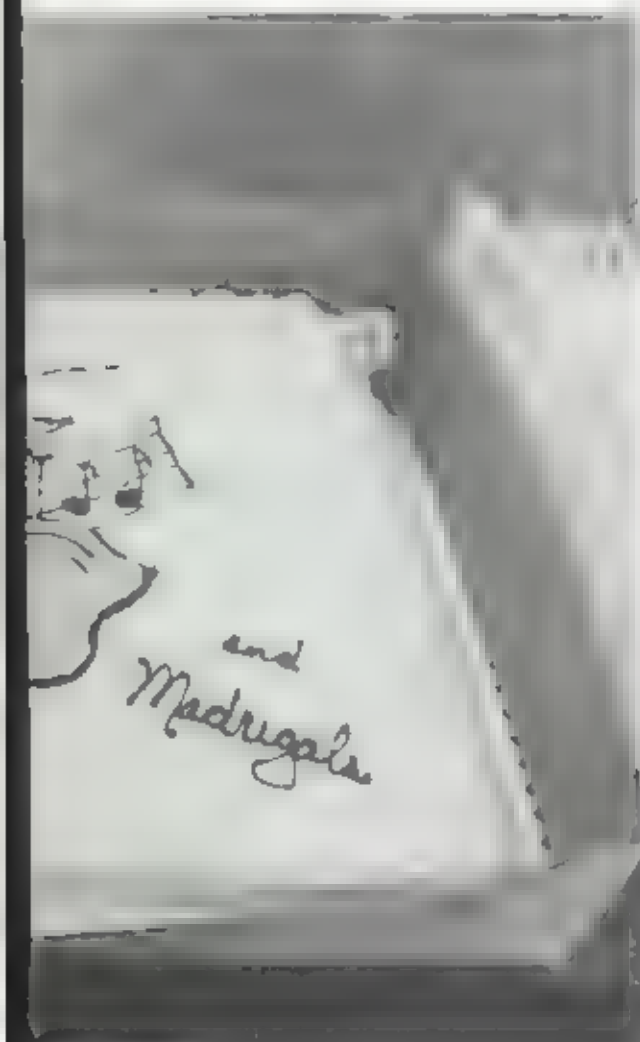

This year, Maryvale High School celebrated its Sweet Sixteenth Birthday in a big way. A good time was had by all the students who participated in the all day activities.

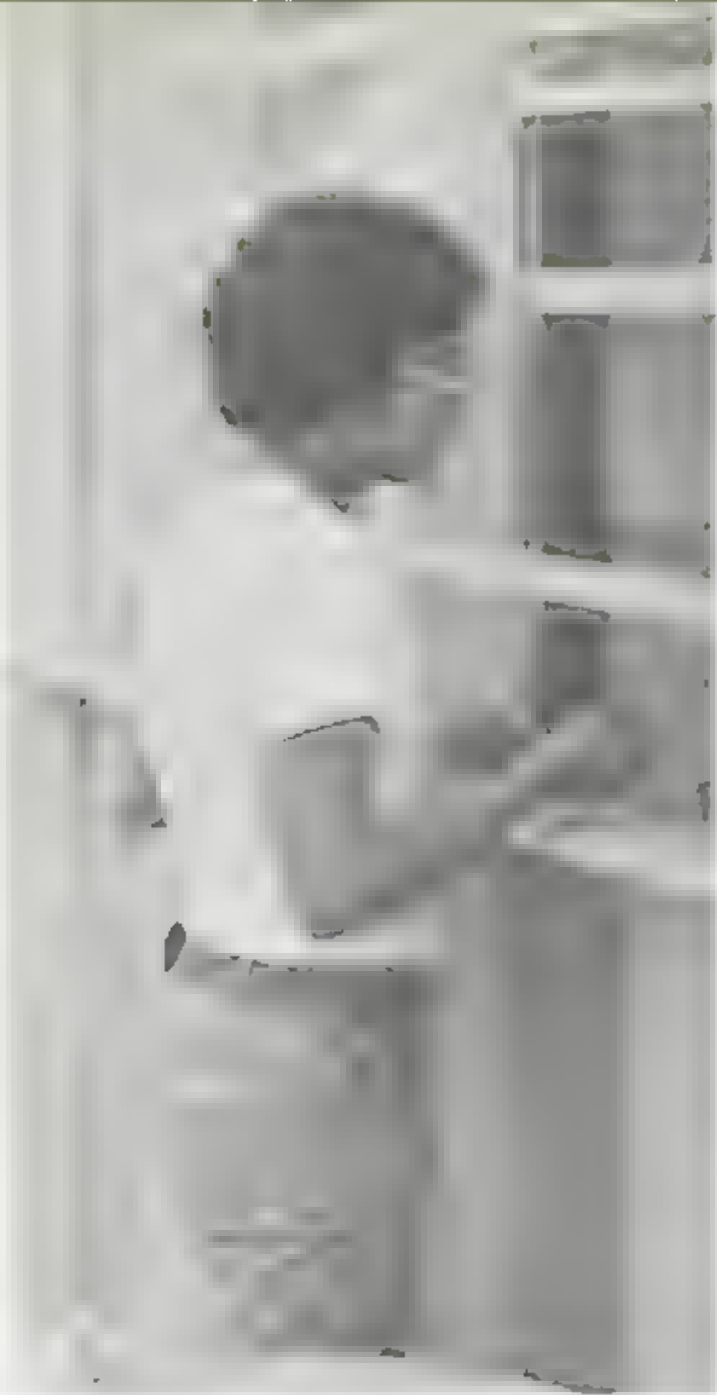

Included in the festivities was a birthday cake contest in which the clubs of MHS vied against each other for the best sheet cake and layer cake decoration (upper middle). The big winner was the H.E.R.O. club, which took the ribbon in the professional division category, (upper left). The Concert Choir and Madrigals also had a popular entry (bottom middle).

Birthday lunch hours were highlighted by the band playing in the mall (bottom left), as well as a celebration including the display of an antique car slightly older than the school. The car is modeled here (upper right) by Heidi Chesser.

Maryvale's Sweet Sixteen . . . an occasion to be long remembered.

Snack bar services post school hunger

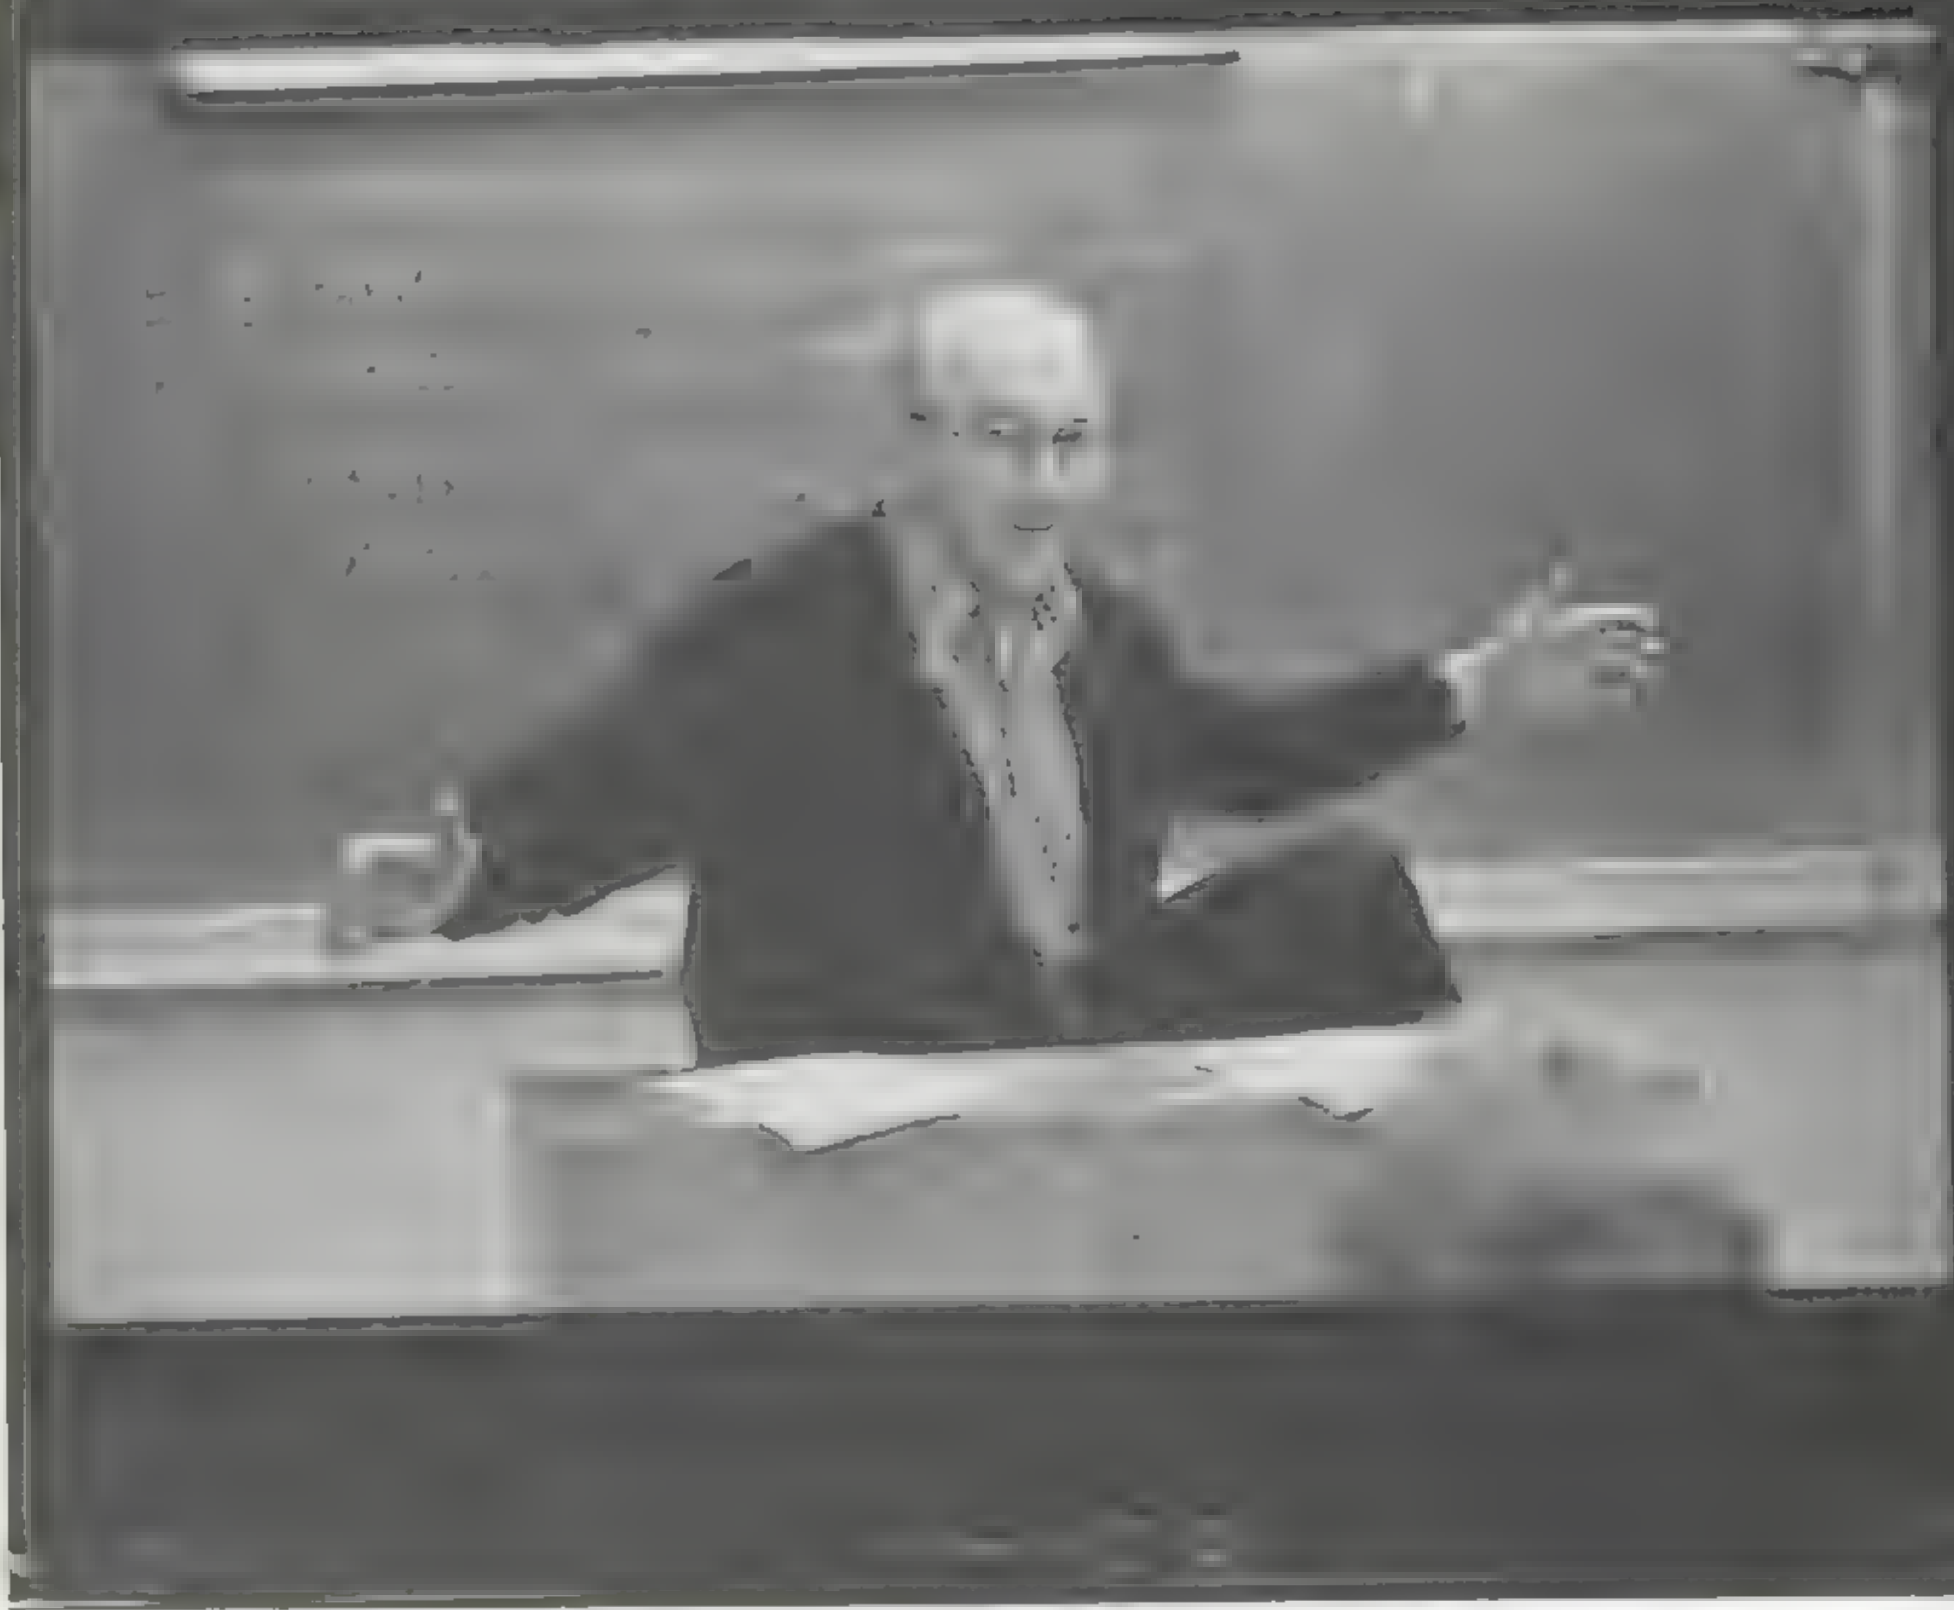

The final bell rings and the Maryvale hordes hit the pavement to the parking lot unless they happen to have a sweet tooth or an unquenchable thirst. Then they head for the snack bar.

Opened in 1976, the snack bar is operated by student government to serve the post-school hunger pangs if they are too severe for students to make it home.

Originally named "Kitty Cafe" Maryvale's answer to the fast-food industry has been a success from the very beginning, the name however, was soon discarded and the place is generally called the "snack bar".

CURRICULUM

Goodson, Miller meet evaluation challenge

In addition to his regular duties of running Maryvale High School during a North Central Evaluation year, Principal David Goodson, along with four other principals in the district devoted one day of the week to study under a grant as a Danforth Fellow.

The fellowship provided money for principals from several western schools to travel to visit other schools in the area to observe different methods of doing things.

Mr. Goodson visited schools in Salt Lake City, Houston, and Southern California. His field of study during the year were methods of improving communication within Maryvale.

As difficult as all this might seem, it probably would have been impossible but for the help rendered by the Associate Principal George Miller who, in addition to his usual duties, did most of the organizing for a successful evaluation.

Bernard Magnusson to retire

Although all of Maryvale's administrative assistants, Bernard Magnusson, Jeanne Schooland, and Wayne Kindall did excellent jobs helping students with problems, Mr. Magnusson was particularly close to Maryvale's heart this year because he has decided to retire.

Mr. Magnusson came to Maryvale in 1965 and served both the boys in trouble and the impressive sports program as athletic director.

But he was more than an athletic director, for fourteen years, he has probably been the number one fan in all Panther land. He not only attended all the events he was required to attend, he was usually there anytime a team was playing.

Around campus, Mr. Magnusson always had time to talk with students and faculty members. He was after 14 years at Maryvale always available to help supervise yearbook dances so that publications would not have to hire any extra help. Other groups have their own stories of how this man has helped.

Most students and faculty members will best remember

Mr. Magnusson for his occasional special announcements: congratulating a team, reporting the condition of a sick or injured student or faculty member, or calling attention to something not covered in the daily bulletin.

"May I have your attention for one announcement, please? May I have your attention for one announcement, please? Mr. Bernard Magnusson is retiring. Maryvale has lost."

North Central team visits MHS campus compliments students

The big news in curriculum this year was the visit to the Maryvale campus of the North Central Association of Secondary School Principal's Evaluation Team.

Maryvale started preparations for the visitation at the end of last year when major committees were appointed. Also individual evaluation started at that time too. The most important part of the evaluation process is the work that the school does in self evaluation.

By the time the visitation team arrived in November, the major committees, the departments and the individual teachers had listed strengths, weaknesses and recommendations. It was only for the team to observe, evaluate, and report on their findings.

Committee impressed with art abundance on Maryvale Campus

In most cases, the team was impressed with what they found at Maryvale. They were most complimentary of the courtesy of the student body, the pride shown by staff and student body in the facilities of the school and the competence of the staff.

The major areas of Philosophy, Curriculum, Student Activities, Media Services, School Facilities, Staff and Administration came in for mostly complimentary remarks.

Some random remarks from the report include: "high academic standards," "genuine concern for the students," "broad range of course offerings".

In the individual departments, the school was complimented further.

The Art department, chaired by Elizabeth Meineke was said to have excellent and well equipped facilities, and a high degree of expertise in its professional staff.

The team noted not only the classroom work but lauded the abundance of art around the rest of the campus and the involvement of students and staff in community art shows.

Student-of-the-month plan in industrial arts lauded by committee

Home Economics Department Chairman Irene Long was absent from school for the first semester because of illness, however, the department was cited for doing a good job under less than ideal circumstances.

The offerings were cited also for being open to members of both sexes and the staff for its "sincere love of teaching".

The Industrial Arts Department, chaired by John Rebb, was congratulated for its Student-of-the-Month program as well as its general excellence. Its safety attitude and program was singled out.

In mathematics, the team found a "broad range of courses which are well taught" and its faculty "well prepared and organized."

They reported that Department Chairman Bonnie Tyron was an "extremely effective" leader.

Cultural objectives of school provided by performing arts

The Performing Arts Department is "provided with good leadership in the person and personality of Mrs. Williams," said the North Central team.

The musicals "provide a cohesive learning experience," which "benefits and provides for the cultural objectives of the school."

Not only did the team find that the co-chairmen of the Physical Education Department, Gilbert Trejo and Virginia Rote, work well together, but the men and women of the department "work well together to provide a well rounded department."

The dance and weight programs were especially cited.

The Science Department, led by Leo Koivisto, was complimented for its implementation of low-level courses to gifted programs and for the extra educational experience and background of its faculty.

Social studies draws praise for objectives course/descriptions

The committee was impressed by the three credit social studies graduation requirement. It also commended the department on its course description manual, course objective and course outlines. "These were first-rate documents and are indicative of a well organized Social Studies Department." James Mottershaw is chairman.

The Reading Department received its share of kudos as the committee cited statistics showing that most reading problems have been solved before the students get past the sophomore level. The tutoring program initiated and supervised by department chairman Margaret Owen was praised.

The staff of the Exceptional Student Program is described as representing "diverse talents and strengths and are, on the whole, cooperative and student-centered." The department is now three years old and is chaired by Joyce Werner who replaced Lois Ostraat.

Staff combines all ingredients to produce perfect yearbook

This year, the Panthorian staff combined all the elements to produce the perfect yearbook. Unfortunately, this was the best we could do. However, with the Grand Exaltant Almighty Imperial Supreme Master of All That Lives (Editor Heidi Chesser) at the helm, the annual came to be better than expected.

Deadlines were nail-biting times for the Advisor, Mr. Stinson, and the rest of the yearbook staff. Naturally, as deadlines increased in length and frequency, so did the use of Anglo-Saxon four-letter words. Words like "Heck!" and "Darn!" rang out as Mr. Stinson and Heidi found mistakes.

Deadlines weren't always terrible. The staff (who are just like the kids next door, if you happen to live next door to the violent ward of a mental hospital) often brought in great quantities of doughnuts and Woody Allen books to break the monotony.

Mr. Stinson, Advisor, checks negatives for a decent picture for the annual (below left). Editor Heidi Chesser checks final layouts (above left). George Fiscus, Assistant Editor and Janeen McMahon choose the best pictures for the classes section (below center). The staff, often seen with their staff cars, were Lynn Rikas, Dennis Goodman, Jenny Dedmon, Janeen McMahon, Gil Leighty, Erick Valkenburg, Kirsten Valkenburg, Detta Hurlbert, Paul Bevins, Mark Suniga, Heidi Chesser, George Fiscus, Steve Carroll, Bill Hutchison, Kim Wilke. After the long deadlines, Mrs. Mable Morris was always prepared to clean up the vast mess left behind in the staff's vapor trails.

'Panther Tracks' staff motley collection of weirdos, writers

The staff of Panther Tracks could be described with several adjectives. The words that immediately come to mind are: bizarre, warped, and psychologically needy.

Working on the staff comprised of dodging bullets exchanged by co-editors Jeff Messner and Tim Gift, as well as the wicked barbs and attempted humor of George Fiscus, Steve Carroll and Dennis Goodman.

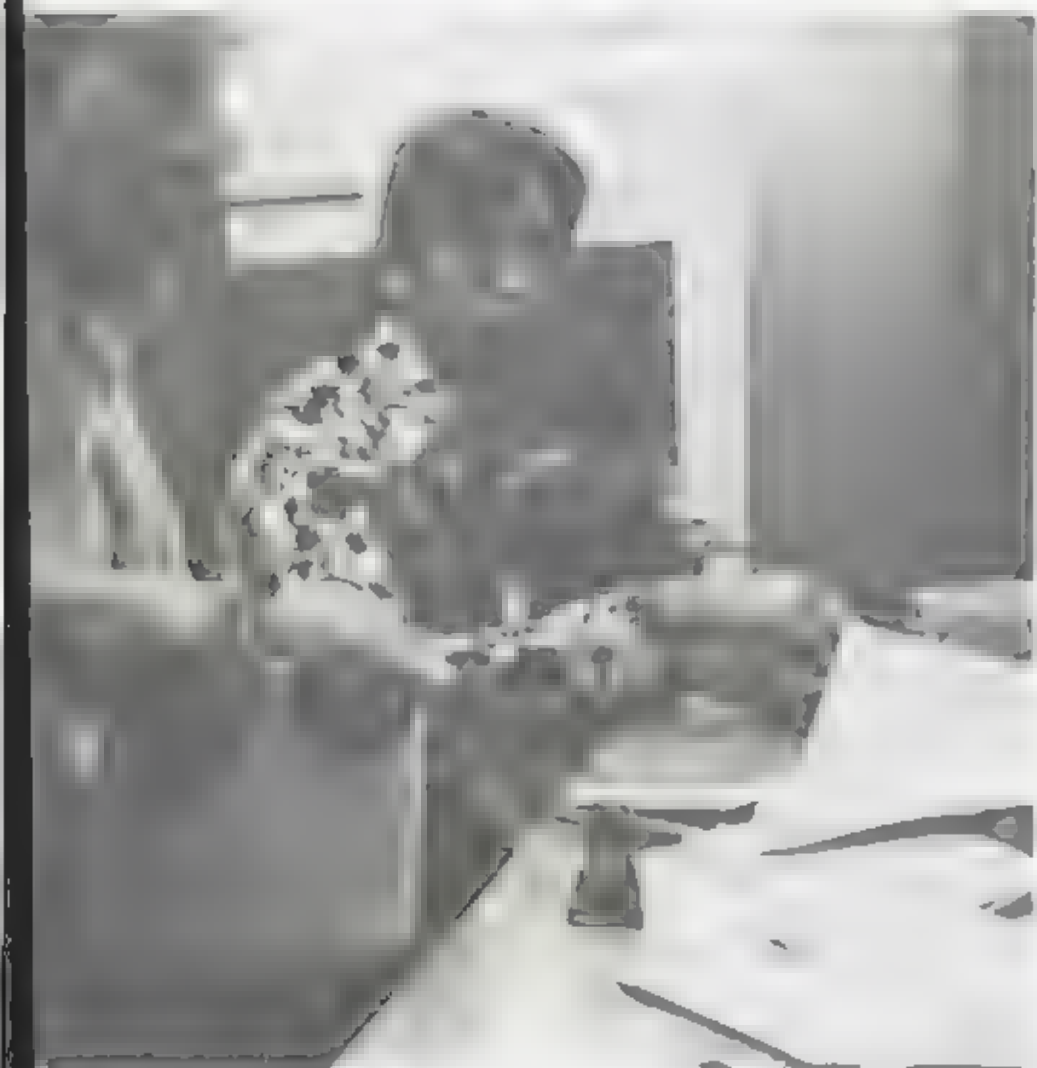

The annual gossip section was comprised of Joy Blair, Francine Bard and Karen Marquez, while Karen Earls and Detta Hurlbert sat by and watched the unusual activities with something less than appreciation. Kim Wilke was the token Wrestlerette on staff, and generally ignored one and all. Lynn Rikas filled time between deadlines by modeling strange fashions, while Karen Jacobsen added a special news-writing flair (not to mention beauty) to the staff. Gil Leighty and cousin Roxie Leighty rounded off the crew by divulging family secrets and displaying horrendous baby pictures of each other.

Newspaper Staff, Row 1: Roxie Leighty, Gil Leighty, Steve Carroll, Francine Bard, Karen Marquez, Jeff Messner. Row 2: Detta Hurlbert, Joy Blair, George Fiscus, Lynn Rikas, Dennis Goodman, Karen Jacobsen.

Varsity cheers boost Panther spirit for football, basketball

The cheerleaders of Maryvale High fulfill the definition of the word "cheer" in every sense. A cheer is a shout of approval, or encouragement. The girls enthusiastically supported Maryvale students, leading a packed football stadium in a rousing rendition of the fight song, or teaching a new cheer to the student body at a pep assembly. The girls always seemed to be in great spirits, spreading good feelings and confidence wherever they went. The overall description of "cheer" is anything that brings joy or happiness. Certainly the Cheerleaders can be credited with much of the happiness and enthusiasm on the Maryvale campus.

A touch of flair and style was added to Panther festivities throughout the year by the Maryvale Pom Line. These girls put in many hours of practice to bring precision routines to students, or to add that special touch to an assembly. Every time the Panthers scored on the football field you could be sure that the Panther Growl would gear up within seconds and the poms would soon be cheering the fans on in the spirited tradition of Maryvale. Even when the Panthers were not on top on the scoreboard, the Poms were enthusiastic and confident that the MHS players would turn out to be the victors.

Toros come back for revenge; beat Panthers in closer 21-12

Perhaps the greatest victory of the 1978 Panther Football season was the opener against the Mountain View Toros. It was the first win of the year for the Maryvale Panthers, and the last loss for the Toros, who came back later in the year to eliminate Maryvale from the playoffs.

As Mountain View fumbled the opening kickoff, it looked as if the Panthers were on their way to another rout as was predicted. Following the fumble, the Cats took the ball and moved 28 yards down-field for the first TD of the year. The game was a see-saw battle with Maryvale coming up on top by the score of 29-26.

As the Panthers traveled to Camelback High, no one could have predicted the 41-14 loss the Panthers sustained. The Cats scored first, but suffered two scoreless periods before putting their last score on the board. Fumbles and interceptions cost the Cats dearly in this surprising loss.

Steve Mills scored twice in a 37-0 rout of the Carl Hayden Falcons. This one sided affair helped to get the Panthers back on the winning track after the rare regular season loss to Camelback in the previous game.

TREVOR BROWNE 7

The Panthers entered this game as a slight underdog to their arch rivals of Trevor Browne. A win would help the Cats to regain some of the confidence lost in the humiliating Camelback match. The Panthers came out with their mind on a big win as they scored on their first two possessions, with quarterback Tom Cline and Phil Sawyer each running in for six. With only 47 seconds remaining in the first half, Sawyer threw a 73 yard touchdown pass to split end Mike Randon. Kicker Steve Young hit all three extra points and the Cats entered the second half with a 21-0 lead. Rick Larson finished the Panther scoring with a 43 yard field goal in the third quarter. The Bruins finally got on the scoreboard with 37 seconds remaining in the game. The Panthers won 24-7 and retained the traveling trophy.

MARYVALE 34 EAST 0

The 1978 homecoming celebrations saw the Panthers rip the East Longhorns by the score of 34-0. Steve Mills scored three touchdowns in the first half to lead the Panthers to a 28-0 lead. Quarterback Lyndon Traylor ran 63 yards in the fourth quarter for the game's final touchdown.

MARYVALE 14 TEMPE 0

Despite fumbling the ball five times in the first half, Maryvale was able to score twice in the second half to post a 14-0 win over the Buffaloes of Tempe. On the Panther's first play from scrimmage after halftime, Tom Cline threw a 69 yard pass to Mike Randon for a touchdown. Defensive back John Bedewi intercepted two passes in the final quarter to halt any Tempe scoring threats, returning one to the Tempe one yard line. Steve Mills took it in from there for the score.

Steve Mills ran in two touchdowns, back Phil Sawyer one, and Dan Maxwell scored on an interception as the Panthers took a 28-0 lead into halftime. Mark Harper took two touchdowns in before North finally got on

MARYVALE 10 CENTRAL 20

Maryvale entered the final regular season game against the Central High Bobcats with the league championship on the line. Going into the game, Maryvale faced a fired-up Central ballclub. The Bobcats had to win to insure a playoff spot. Maryvale struck first as Tom Cline threw a 7 yard touchdown to Phil Chilton in the first quarter. Young added the point after and the Panthers were up 7-0. Central tied it up in the second quarter and the score at the half was 7-7. Both teams exchanged field goals in the third quarter but a Central touchdown and field goal in the final quarter iced the win for the Bobcats. Maryvale suffered its second defeat of the season at the hands of Central, 20-10.

CAMELBACK 6

In this playoff opener, the main motive for victory was revenge for the 41-14 loss the Panthers sustained in the second game of the season. Camelback scored first, but the Cats came to life, scoring 28 points and gaining sweet revenge over the Spartans.

MOUNTAIN VIEW 21

The Panthers entered the quarter-final game against the Mountain View Toros as an underdog and the Toros did come out as the winner in this tight, exciting game. The Panthers rushed for more yards, passed for more yards, and gained eight more first downs than the Toros, but came up on the short end in the scoring department 21-12. The Toros went on to win the State Championship over the Saguaro Sabercats. The Maryvale Panthers ended the season with a record of nine wins and three losses, and the distinction of being the only winner over Mountain View in the 1978 season.

Basketball five gains division with North win

After a promising start, the Panther Varsity Basketball team fell into a string of losses, only to rise from the ratings basement to steal two important games and sneak into the State Championship playoffs. The Panthers lost their first two games by relatively close scores but won their next two against tough competition, Carl Hayden and Moon Valley. Soon after these games though, the team fell into a long slump that dragged them into the bottom of the ratings. The team redeemed themselves with a win over fourth ranked South and North. The victory took the Panthers to the playoffs, where they lost their first game to Phoenix Union by a score of 64-41. It was a case of too little, too late for the 1979 Panther Basketball squad.

The 1978-79 Wrestling Season at Maryvale was very successful at all levels of the sport. The squad was Division Champion for the third straight year and reached that position through an undefeated season, also for the third year in a row. The Varsity Panthers were 9-0 at the conclusion of the season, while the JV squad was 9-0-1 and the Frosh 8-2.

The season was highlighted by several records including the highest point total in a Division Tournament (213½); the team qualified all 13 wrestlers for State; the most wrestlers in history had winning records, three of them undefeated.

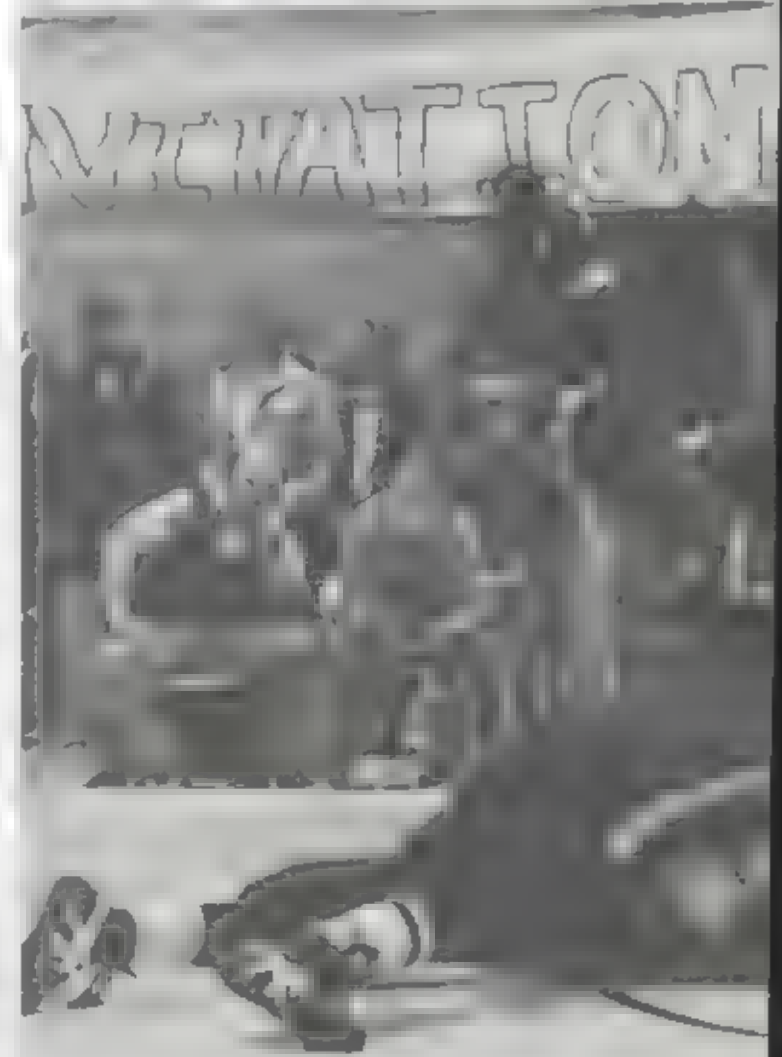

The tradition of fine wrestling at Maryvale continued throughout the year as the Panthers dominated valley competition and completed another successful season.

Panthers loose first to Carl Hayden, 2-1

The Varsity Maryvale Baseball team opened the season with a slim loss of 2-1 against the Carl Hayden Falcons. Pitcher Dan Maxwell looked promising, as did Steve Mills. Andy Flores, Jim Howard and Mark Schlosser also turned in spirited performances in the season opener. Coach Gil Trejo expects a satisfying year from this year's group of promising players.

Baseball on the Maryvale diamond is full of action, as demonstrated by this montage of shots: Dan Maxwell put every ounce of power into every pitch (lower right) while Phil Chilton (lower left) concentrated on knocking his target out of the stadium; spectators anxiously awaited a call on this play (upper right) as Andy Flores reached for the base with all the effort he could muster. Coach Trejo (upper left) kept a close watch on all his players, hoping for another championship year at Maryvale.

Team ties Alhambra for state third place

In its fourth year as a varsity sport, the girls' softball team lost to Santa Rita to end their season tied for third in state.

After winning the League B title, the girls lost to Alhambra in division, 5-0.

In the state playoffs, the team beat Trevor Browne before bowing in the semi-finals.

The team was paced by six all-league performers: Catcher Cathy Neville, Pitcher Karen Ebert, Infielder Kelly Cameron, and Outfielders Giovanni Jimenez, Martha Mays and Sandy Carter.

Kelly, Giovanni and Karen were also named Divisional Tournament All-Stars.

Anna, Jurgen attend MHS as exchanges

Two foreign exchange students joined the ranks of the Maryvale student body during the 1978-79 school year.

From Sweden, Anna Malm adapted easily to the MHS life, becoming a popular student soon after her arrival. Anna found the music and styles of America interesting, buying up all the Levis she could find (they cost upwards of forty dollars in her native country).

Another popular exchange student was Jurgen Hasbach, or "George" as he was known on campus. Taking part in activities ranging from miniature golf to parties at Lake Pleasant, Jurgen was popular, but transferred to Browne after first semester.

Both students became active in Student Government and helped them entertain at assemblies and club meetings.

It was a sad time for all who came to know them as the year's end came nearer and goodbyes were exchanged, Anna and Jurgen returning to their native countries.

Shepard, Stringer rule 'Disneyland' during Homecoming

Assemblies, prize winning floats, afternoon activities, romantic dances, parades, King and Queen elections . . . all these things make up the special week of Homecoming at Maryvale.

After a week of preparation for the festivities ahead, Friday night finally arrived. The Maryvale Panthers faced the East High Longhorns in the traditional Homecoming game and dominated the first half, taking a 28-0 lead into the locker room.

During halftime, the winners of the Homecoming royalty elections were announced. Lisa Shepard and Kenny Stringer were named King and Queen, with Phil Lynn and Cindy Ginn, Phil Chilton and Karen Marquez named as attendants.

Lisa and Kenny were triumphantly driven off in a Corvette to await the Homecoming dance they would preside over.

The theme of float competition for 1978 Homecoming was "Wonderful World of Disney." Sophomores triumphed over the competition with their "Peter Panther" float, while the Juniors were runner up with their "Sleeping Beauty's Castle" entry. The Freshman and Senior floats came in third and fourth place, respectfully.

The Panthers came out determined to win, scoring once again in the fourth quarter to finish the scoring and triumph over the Longhorns 35-0.

The Homecoming dance followed the game and was a big success highlighted by the disco sounds of Stuart Sherman and the celebration of victory.

Homecoming week again proved to be a special event in the life of Maryvale students and will be long remembered by all those who took part in the festivities.

Swedish Anna, German Jurgen visit MHS

With only nine months of school ahead of them, the class of '79 entered Maryvale in August, participated in many school activities, and anticipated the cruel world that awaited them upon graduation.

Two foreign exchange students highlighted the class of '79. Anna Malm, from Sweden, and Jurgen Hasbach from Germany, became active MHS students and enjoyed the different life of Maryvale.

Elder classmates were often seen picking on freshmen, wearing togas, or complaining about tests in American Government, as well as counting the days (and sometimes hours) until graduation.

Weinheimer leads juniors through year of triumph

After two years of anticipation, money raising and classes, the juniors finally served their purpose in life by sponsoring the prom.

Held in the Hyatt Regency this, the prom went off so smoothly, that the class wondered what they had been worried about for so long.

Other than sponsoring the prom, the class fawned over seniors, suffered through American History, Sports Literature, chemistry and other required courses, and made life as miserable as possible for lowly sophomores and freshmen.

Led by Ann Weinheimer, this year's juniors scorned making money. Except for sponsoring a couple of dances, including homecoming, the class wandered through the year without accomplishment.

All in all, it could be called a transitional year between complete dullness and complete authority over the school.

One word more than any other describes the sophomore class: Dull. Not that they don't show some signs of school spirit like building prize winning floats and buying more yearbooks than any other class, but, when you try to write copy about them, anonymity becomes a legend.

For one thing, they do not have the sympathetic needs of the freshmen. Neither do they have the maturity and macho of the juniors and seniors.

Sophomores are so dull that the highlight of the year is buying rings.

This year, the sophs did win the float contest. Based on the theme of "The Wonderful World of Disney", the class float was a take-off of Peter Pan complete with two boats with the panther boat sinking the opponents.

Apart from some bizarre incidents which included a gargantuan paste fight, the class did a good, if dull job.

Frosh given free advice by orientation, newspaper

Hardly had the freshmen hit campus when they were besieged with advice, most of it unsolicited.

Not only did the school hold its annual orientation session complete with administrators, cheerleaders and student government officers, but the school newspaper gave them advice: •• no one will ever notice if a junior or senior drops his books, but the news of a freshman dropping his will be broadcast. •• meals at Maryvale are nutritionally balanced and contain nothing to rot your teeth. •• some hallways at Maryvale lead nowhere and freshmen have gotten lost and died of starvation. •• freshmen are often mistaken for low tables, tall typewriters and wastebaskets. •• finally, they were admonished not to think like freshmen so they would not act like freshmen. By the time people figured that out they would be sophomores.

The class was led by President Irene Garcia, Vice-President Kathy Schofield, Treasurer Pam Maples, Secretary Dana Reynolds, and Judy Rogers, Karen Chandler, and Lori Sanders.

My dear Mr. [unclear]
I have just received your letter of the 10th inst. and am glad to hear that you are still interested in the [unclear]

I am, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
[unclear]

Look, Mr. Stinson, I've written my final copy! I didn't even have George or Steve do it for me, and there is even a few minutes left before the absolute deadline.

With this copy written, we will be finished with this book. Am I glad! It sure has been a heck of a lot of time, trouble, and even ulcers. There were, however, a few people who made yearbook life a little easier.

First, there was Mr. Stinson, who was always pushing for pages; Mr. Barclay, who, with a lot of coaxing, helped us with quite a few yearbook problems; David Shrum, for being such a gifted and gift-giving photographer; George Fiscus, for going Christmas shopping on our deadlines; Vincent Hubbs for taking our pictures with no film in the camera . . . and of course . . . Alison Silbaugh for . . . what else . . . her talents as a yearbooker.

Thanks for everything,

Michi Chesser

Leslie,

You're a super special friend to have and you have a terrific personality to match. We've had a lot of fun through the past year. I hope next year you, Jayah and I will have at least one class together. It would be a blast. But I don't know if the teacher could stand it. We are all gonna have to get together over summer. I mean it. God bless you always.

Love ya,
